

Small, High Quality RTO for Sale Hunter Region

Looking to start your own training business? You must consider this fully compliant young RTO. For sale now.

When you're starting out in your own RTO, you have two choices: apply for registration or purchase an existing one. ASQA has now made that choice simple...

Do what you're doing...Look for an RTO for sale

Last year ASQA, the national regulator, increased scrutiny over new applications for registration.

Which makes this less than two year old, fully compliant RTO for sale a very smart purchase.

It has national registration until April, 2024. You'd only be granted two years and a restricted registration if you applied to ASQA now.

And this one is of high quality. The vendor has been meticulous in maintaining its high level of compliance.

It offers the following qualifications on scope:

- Diploma of Leadership & Management;
- Diploma of Business;
- Certificate IV in Project Management; and
- Certificate III in Education Support.

In addition, there are a number of popular, certified part-qualifications and non-accredited, short courses included in the intellectual property.

The business is currently located in the Hunter region. But, as the new owner, you'd be able to move it wherever you like.

So if you're thinking about applying for a new RTO registration...STOP!

Consider the new circumstances...

This RTO for sale has a long registration and a clean record. So purchase one instead.
